

Transitional Skills Assessment

Our Children's House at Baylor in Allen is offering transitional assessments for children ages 11-17 with chronic health conditions. The goal of the program is to support parents as the young person moves from a child to a young adult. The assessment objectives include: connecting families with resources, establishing realistic & meaningful home goals, promoting functional skill development in the home & in the community as well as improving the child's overall level of independence.

Therapists will provide assessments targeting the following:

- Occupational Therapy: Self care such as dressing, cooking, and bathing. Pre-work skills such as home chores, shopping and eating out.
- Speech Therapy: Functional expression language, social communication, communication system updates and nutritional screening
- Physical Therapists: Equipment checks, strength and endurance, Physical fitness through utilization of community resources, Home programs addressing growth issues for children with tonal differences.
- Inform Parent of Resource such as: Supported Employment, Estate Planning, SSI and Assistive Living
